BACKGROUND

Did you know that Beginner Sewing started with just FIVE local people who wanted to learn how to sew?

That's right, several years ago Joan Mantini started a Facebook Group called Beginner Sewing for local members to get together and sew. But things quickly changed as the group grew to over 100K members. After several years of being the Facebook page owner at Beginner Sewing and watching the group grow by hundreds daily, it was noticed that there was a desperate need to have a single go-to spot for members to be able to find answers to their common questions, get some useful tips & tricks, as well as find reputable places to purchase sewing products online. The member base of this rapidly growing group, along with Joan's extensive background in publications, gave her the idea to gather up some of her favorite places and generate a single site that beginners could go to find what they need from experts and professionals across the globe... and Beginner Sewing was born!
